Together with the Laboratory for International Assessment Studies, Deakin University's strategic research and innovation centre, the Centre for Research for Educational Impact (REDI), and the Deakin Science and Society Network, NORRAG is pleased to invite you to the Decolonising Data Summit.

The Decolonising Data Summit brings together a diverse range of scholars to explore how coloniality is implicated in the project of datafication in education and international development. The Summit aims to address issues such as global hierarchies of data production, the creep of privatisation through Ed-Tech, and the dangers related to surveillance and data harvesting. It will encourage a reconsideration of the dominant epistemologies and practices of conceptualising, producing, sharing and storing education data.
