

KIX EMAP Podcast – Episode #27: Diving Deeper into KIX Research on Education Technology Innovations, with Selin Turan

Speaker biographical note

Selin Turan is the Knowledge Mobilization and Engagement Coordinator at War Child, an NGO based in Amsterdam, Netherlands. She has supported and helped manage the implementation of War Child's KIX-supported research in Chad, Sudan, and Uganda. During the Education Policy and Innovation Conference \(EPIC\) 2023 conference, Turan was a panelist on the "Education in emergencies: Using research evidence to improve practice" panel where she presented her organization's research on the region. She holds an MSc in Public Policy Analysis from the Higher School of Economics in Moscow, Russia, a BSc in Political Science from Bologna University in Italy, and a BSc in Political Sciences and International Relations from Marmara University in Istanbul, Turkey.