

KIX EMAP Podcast – Episode #29: Special CIES 2026 Rewind: What We Got Wrong, Right, and Inspiration for the Future

Speaker Biographical Note

Syeed Ahamed

Founder and CEO

Institute for Informed Development (IID)
Bangladesh

Syeed Ahamed is a public policy analyst and the founding CEO of the Institute of Informatics and Development (IID) in Dhaka, Bangladesh. Since 2013, he has led IID's mission to foster an informed, inclusive, and democratic society through research, advocacy, and public engagement. He previously served as a Research Fellow at the University of Melbourne, Australia. Syeed also coordinates the Bangladesh CSO Alliance Secretariat and holds several international and national advisory roles, including Steering Group Member of UNESCO Bangkok's NEQMAP, Member of the Bangladesh Ministry of Education's GPE KIX National Steering Committee, Country Focal for the PAL Network, and Team Lead of the GPE-EOL-funded e!quality education project. His innovative contributions to research communication, capacity building, and policy advocacy have earned him multiple distinctions, including the Manthan Award, the mBillionth Award, and the National ICT Award. His research interests centre on educational justice, the assessment of foundational learning, and advancing gender equality and social inclusion in education policy and practice.